

Game-changing transportation management software for crude, sand, gravel, water, lime, waste, aggregate, chemicals and more

Bulk A to Z, The Pak Has Your Back!

If you're in transport, check out PakEnergy Transportation. We eliminate the worst parts of your workday -- the time- and money-wasters -- with transportation automation software and advanced intelligence, so you can operate your business with every advantage of an oil & gas supermajor.

"Buying PakEnergy Transportation was the best decision we made last year."

CFO of BML

Easily manage commodities

Set up separate profiles for multiple commodities and schedule everything from one place - no more logging into multiple systems.

Know where your drivers are

Drivers spending too much time on breaks? You'll see exactly where they are, so you can quickly get them back on the road.

Instant integration with ELDs

Seamless integration with most ELDs (including Geotab & Samsara) means your real-time data is just a click away!

Get a deeper understanding of your business and work smarter

PakEnergy's customizable reports and dashboards let you visualize trends, mitigate disruptions, and gain a competitive edge with advanced, reliable data analytics – at your fingertips and in real-time.

"We can actually upload all of our tickets from the previous day, get all the data and reports together, and have meaningful meetings. It's been great. We did 150 loads yesterday, and it took a couple of minutes to upload those tickets into the system and generate reports."

Modern, easy-to-use software gives you a competitive edge

PakEnergy Transportation is simple, yet powerful. It's built by truckers for truckers, so even the most reluctant dispatchers and drivers love it. The software "speaks the language" and positions your team to perform at their best and help grow your business.

"Now they can focus on their job instead of on the software. PakEnergy provides the most technologically advanced and integrated mobile solution in the fuel industry. Their mobile platform is light years ahead of the competition and PakEnergy will keep it that way. The return on investment is massive and they are a great company to partner with."

Maximize your loads

Simple drag & drop scheduling lets you maximize loads – including series with different frequencies. Dispatchers can plan and schedule ahead, email schedules to drivers, and even assign loads to specific drivers. Drivers and dispatchers love it!

Safety & compliance worries? Never miss a renewal!

Photo feature prompts drivers to take photos for proof of delivery/pickup and dispatchers sync pics with tickets – only available in PakEnergy Transportation! Customize your system to send alerts for compliance renewals. Easily remove out-of-compliance drivers from the dispatch roster.

3rd party dispatch capabilities

Streamline load assignment & ticket data exchange, receive real-time updates, and electronically tender loads from one PakEnergy Transportation company to another. Eliminate data integrity issues with master data flowing from you to the dispatch company.

Integrate with every part of your business

PakEnergy system easily integrates with most accounting software with invoicing and payroll all in one place, including custom invoicing with if/then rules. Easily specify severed or suspended leases and sync with Transportation so dispatchers can't schedule loads to these leases.

Have you already invested a lot of $$ in your Transportation software?

Is your software really doing everything you need it to? What's it not doing that's keeping you up at night? We start with a discovery call and build a solution to meet your specific needs. It's a customized system – just for you – without the premium price.

24/7 support means you and your drivers stay focused on business

Drivers shouldn't be wasting time struggling with buggy software and neither should you. PakEnergy's customer success team is just a phone call away with 24/7 hour availability. "One thing I really like about PakEnergy is they've got a 24-hour support number. If our drivers are having issues with the tablets or the software, they call that number. We have very few issues on the support side. It's all been great."

Still using an in-house transportation solution?

If your people are coding, imagine what they could be doing instead to help grow your business. We offer custom software without the headaches or the premium price, so you can work better and smarter for less. Where do you want to be next year? We scale with you to help you get there.

Stop using pen & paper and put an end to manual Excel file creation

Eliminate missing or illegible tickets, human error, double entries, and manual validations. Stop scrounging for data from multiple sources. PakEnergy's transportation software empowers your team and gives you clear visibility of your business – all in one easy-to-use system.
